

BanjoTeacher.com

Nova Scotia Banjo Camp

August 19th to 21st, 2011

The Nova Scotia Banjo Camp presented by BanjoTeacher.com is a three-day teaching and jamming event in beautiful Nova Scotia, Canada. The event will begin Friday, August 19 in the late afternoon and conclude on the afternoon of Sunday, August 21 with banjo workshop classes, jams, concerts and other activities. The location is set on the shores of the North Thumberland Strait on the scenic Sunrise Trail, just across the strait from Prince Edward Island.

INSTRUCTORS THIS YEAR INCLUDE: Ross Nickerson & Russell Sawler

The Tatamagouche Center is handling all the signups and accommodations this year. Wow, what great food, what a location, top notch facility, great people. I can't believe I found such a perfect place for the Nova Scotia Banjo Camp!

The curriculum will include class sessions for all students and each skill level on these subjects and more: Right and Left Hand Techniques, Backup Playing, Practice Habits and Priorities, Scruggs Style and Keith Style, Up the Neck Work, Jamming with Others, Rhythm and Timing, Playing in Different Keys and Tunings, Playing by Ear and Learning to Play Without Tablature

There will also be a Faculty Concert with Ross Nickerson, & Russell Sawler, open to the public at the Tatamagouche Creamery Square.

To register for the Nova Scotia Banjo Camp visit the Tatamagouche Centre at <http://www.tatacentre.ca> or call 1-800-218-2220, from USA 1-902 657-2231